REVIEW THE SYLLABUS EARLY AND OFTEN

Due dates are still due dates! Find a system that works for you to keep track of assignments, exams and checking course material (or checking in for class meetings). Give yourself extra time to work on discussion posts and assignments.

TREAT REMOTE CLASSES LIKE AN IN-PERSON CLASS

Check Moodle often (a few times a week). Plan time for lessons (class time) and time for studying and homework. Set up a productive study space with minimal distractions. Remember to participate in class discussions and get to know your professor!

COMMUNICATE

Check your syllabus for contact information. Email professors/instructors and utilize forums in Moodle to ask questions. Stay in touch with classmates and set up study goals together. You are not alone in online learning. Reach out to advisors and tutors to help you succeed!

BUILD A ROUTINE

It can be easy to feel like you have more free time, but you still have to make time for assignments, discussions and studying. Take breaks when you need them. Make a schedule and stick to it! This is especially important for maintaining healthy sleep patterns.

OTHER RESOURCES:

- schedule academic advising appointments through Portal
- stay organized with tips from SSA
- use virtual tutoring
- participate in virtual events and programs. Staying connected is more important than ever!
