I. Incidental Fees

1. Authority and Responsibility
1. By state law (Oregon Revised Statute 352.105) the Western Oregon University Board of Trustees is empowered to collect incidental fees for the university upon the request of the Associated Students of Western Oregon University (ASWOU). The mandatory incidental fee, use of the fee, or decision to modify an existing fee may be refused by the Board or the President of the university under the Board's control if the Board or the President determine that:
 1. The assessed or allocated mandatory fee is in violation of applicable local, state or federal law.
 2. The allocation conflicts with a pre-existing contractual financial commitment.
 3. The total mandatory incidental fees budget is an increase of more than five percent over the level of the previous year.
 4. The fee request is not advantageous to the cultural or physical development of students.
2. The mandatory incidental fee, use of the fee, or decision to modify an existing fee may not be refused by the Board or President based on considerations about point of view that the funding seeks to advance. If there is disagreement between ASWOU and the Board on mandatory incidental fees, mediation may be used prior to a decision by the Board. If an agreement is not reached, the decision of the Board may be appealed to the Higher Education Coordinating Commission by ASWOU within seven days of the Board's decision. The Board shall submit its response within seven days of the appeal. The Commission shall render its decision within seven days of its receipt of the Board's response.
3. Student participation in the allocation of incidental fees is required by Oregon law through the student government. As Western Oregon University, the student government recognizes the Incidental Fee Committee (IFC). To the IFC is delegated the authority and responsibility to recommend to the ASWOU Senate the amounts for the incidental fee each year. Section 4.w outlines the process once the Incidental Fee Committee has made a final budget recommendation to the ASWOU Senate. IFC is also charged with the responsibility to make allocations from the contingency fund, which includes over-realized incidental fee income and to determine optional fees as necessary and appropriate.

IFC is also delegated the authority and responsibility to define a “fee paying student”.

4. In the process of determining the level of the incidental fee, the IFC is delegated the responsibility to analyze and appraise budget requests, conduct budget reviews, and make final fee recommendations to the ASWOU Senate. The IFC is required to obtain as broad a base of student participation in this process as possible to ensure holistic oversight in budgeting decisions.

2. Purpose

1. Incidental fees are used only to fund programs under the control and supervision of the Western Oregon University Board of Trustees and must be advantageous to the cultural or physical development of students as outlined in ORS 352.105. These fees are assessed quarterly to each student and are paid directly as part of the registration process. The incidental fee is used to fund three aggregated funding categories:
 1. Student Union Activities.
 2. Educational, Cultural, and Student Government Activities;
 3. Athletic Activities

I. Areas Seeking IFC Funding for the First Time

1. At the beginning of the incidental fee budget process, an area seeking student fee funding and status as a funded area for the following year must develop a budget and form an advisory board as outlined in 5.b.iii.
2. After receiving feedback and support from the advisory board, the area must submit their budget to the IFC Chair for action by the IFC.

4. If the IFC determines the proposed area meets the above criteria, the proposed area will be provided a time for their budget presentation and will be included as an area to be funded in the budget decision-making process. The IFC is not required, nor has any obligation, to fund the proposed area at the level requested and may choose to fund the proposed area at any level based on the merits of the program and the level that it is advantageous to the cultural or physical development of students. IFC is responsible to determine the aspects of the proposed area it wants to fund or not fund, as well as any level of funding.

Some examples of a person being “associated with an area or activity” include but are not limited to if a person is paid, volunteers, holds an office, practices with, or is on a team roster in a given academic year.
2. The term “specific area of conflict” is defined here as the area limited to the specific Western Oregon University organization with which the voting IFC member or IFC sub-committee member is associated, but not extending to include the entire area under which that specific Western Oregon University organization is funded.
3. In the event of an alleged conflict of interest, any ASWOU member may file a formal complaint with the Incidental Fee Steering Committee (IFSC).
