UNIVERSITY SHARED GOVERNANCE

In recognition of the value of faculty participation in academic policy setting and decision making, the administration and faculty have agreed upon the establishment of an extensive system of shared governance (WOU Board of Trustees Resolution on Shared Governance) at WOU. This system is recognized first through the Faculty Governance Charter and second through individual division governance bylaws, which are housed in the Office of the Provost. The major vehicles for the university-wide system of governance are the Faculty Senate, Staff Senate, Student Senate and committees. Each entity carries out its governance activities according to their respective bylaws and with the approval of the university president.

Faculty Senate

The Faculty Senate is a representative body composed of faculty members elected by the various academic elements of the University. The Faculty Senate establishes, defines, and coordinates those committees deemed necessary to the functioning of all university faculty governance and other such committees as it sees useful. The Faculty Senate also provides advice and recommendations to the university president and other personnel and areas of the University on whatever matters deemed appropriate. A complete list of Faculty Senate and campus committees, along with the current charge, composition, and membership of each, along with the WOU Faculty Governance Charter and the Bylaws of the WOU Faculty Senate, can be found on the WOU Faculty Senate webpage.

Staff Senate

This body is advisory to the President and all members shall be appointed by the President based on recommendations from appropriate constituencies. The UBAC will make recommendations to the President prior to finalizing budget recommendations from the President to the Board of Trustees. Final funding recommendations are expected to have clear linkages to the University's Strategic Plan.

As an institution of higher education, WOU recognizes the educational benefits of building and sustaining a diverse, equitable, and inclusive community that upholds academic freedom and the robust exchange of ideas by all stakeholders.

FACULTY REPRESENTATION ASSOCIATIONS

There are a number of professional organizations representing various aspects of faculty interest that have members on this campus. Among them are such groups as the American Association of University Professors, and the Oregon Education Association.

American Federation of Teachers (AFT), Local 2278

The Western Oregon University Federation of Teachers, AFT Local 2278 is the collective bargaining agent for faculty at or above 0.5 FTE. The provisions, found in the Collective Bargaining Agreement between the University and the Union, govern relationships in those matters. <https://wouft.org>
Reference the current Collective Bargaining Agreement

Interinstitutional Faculty Senate

The IFS is comprised of faculty representatives from the Oregon Public Universities: Eastern Oregon University, Oregon Health & Science University, Oregon State University, Portland State University, Southern Oregon University, University of Oregon, Western Oregon University <https://oregonifs.org>

Association of Oregon Faculties

The AOF is a statewide organization representing faculty interests to state officials and the legislature through the Public Affairs Council, a professional lobbying organization. Membership is open to all members of faculty.

CHAPTER 2: FACULTY AND ACADEMICS

This chapter concerns matters not covered under the [Collective Bargaining Agreement between the University and WOUFT, AFT Local 2278. It is descriptive only, and in case of perceived differences between the Faculty Handbook and the Agreement, the Agreement shall take precedence.]

The faculty are those individuals employed by the University as unclassified personnel (personnel not covered by Civil Service). Distinctions between those with administrative appointments and those with teaching appointments are made in accordance with Western Oregon Board of Trustees policy, specific situations as noted below, and provisions of the Collective Bargaining Agreement that apply only to members of the AFT-WOU, Local 2278 bargaining unit.

ACADEMIC RANKS AND TITLES

Academic ranks and titles are granted to unclassified university personnel in both specific administrative and all teaching positions based upon qualifications and assignment. These ranks and titles are not necessarily related directly to salary and responsibility, but, especially at higher levels, do indicate a quality of professional ability, training, experience, and activity substantially above what might be considered average. WOU Policy: ASA-01-001

Full Professor

The rank is awarded by the University to members of faculty whose leadership and accomplishments in teaching, scholarship and service to their university community and to the Academy are substantial, distinctive and perpetually emerging. In rare cases, a new faculty member of exceptional academic or professional attainment may be appointed at this rank.

Associate Professor

The rank is awarded to members of faculty who, over a substantial period of successful continuous service as assistant professors, have shown significant professional growth and achievement in the areas of teaching, scholarship and service to their university community and for the betterment of the Academy.

Assistant Professor

The rank is normally granted to newly hired faculty who hold the terminal degree, or its equivalent, in their field.

Professor Emeritus

Upon retirement, this rank may be granted to a member of the faculty after ten or more years of distinguished service to the University. A Professor Emeritus is so designated and appointed by the President upon the recommendation of the appropriate divisional personnel review committee, the appropriate dean and the provost. Professors Emeriti are accorded the privileges of regular, ranked faculty and will have their names recorded at this rank in University publications during the remainder of their lifetimes. No compensation accrues by virtue of this rank unless the individual is offered a temporary contract to teach or fulfill other duties. A free yearly parking permit, season athletic passes, library privileges, and access to athletic exercise facilities are available to emeritus faculty. When possible, office space is afforded emeritus faculty.

WOU Policy: ASA-01-90

Graduate Faculty

Graduate faculty are those who are authorized to offer graduate level courses, to act as advisors to graduate students, to serve on graduate thesis and research committees, and to prepare and take part in written and oral graduate exams, in part, or whole.

Non-Tenure Track Faculty

Non-Tenure Track faculty have fixed-term appointments and may be at the Lecturer, Instructor, Senior Instructor, Non-tenure track Assistant Professor or Visiting Assistant or Associate Professor titles.

POLICIES ON RECRUITMENT AND APPOINTMENT

Recruitment

Recruitment of tenure track faculty members involves both process and evaluation. WOU, as an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer, follows specific procedures to assure that equal opportunity does in fact take place. The process also provides for an extensive evaluation by the campus community.

The process for filling existing faculty positions or creating new positions begins with a statement of need being provided by the appropriate dean. When the president, through the provost, gives approval, the office or division may open the search. The search is to include advertising appropriate to the position to be filled, the use of search committees to screen and recommend candidates, and, when feasible, visits by finalists to the campus. The primary focus of the office or division in screening candidates is on their competencies in light of the needs of that component of the University. Members of the University faculty may apply for openings for which they believe themselves qualified. The President may declare that a certain position is to be filled from within the University.

All search committee recommendations will be in writing and forwarded by the department head, program coordinator or division chair along with other appropriate data and information (vitae, correspondence, description of search process, etc.) to the appropriate dean. If the dean, or, in turn, the provost, disagrees with the recommendation, a resolution will be sought; however, if a resolution is not achieved, the provost may direct alternative solutions. Recruitment forms are available at the HR website (Human Resources).

No representative of the University will make commitments to prospective appointees without the written approval of the provost, who, in turn, must have budgetary clearance from the Vice President for Finance and Administration and approval from the President.

Recruitment of non-tenure track faculty is confined to meeting specific course and program needs not able to be serviced by the tenure track faculty.

Appointment of Faculty

All appointments of tenure track faculty members are made by the provost with approval of the president and predicated on recommendations from the appropriate dean, and the respective division/departments. Appointments of non-tenure track faculty are made by the dean on recommendation of the division chair and approval of the provost.

Appointment of Summer Session Faculty

Appointment to a summer session teaching position is not assured and there are limits which are regulated by the Collective Bargaining Agreement.

Appointment of Administrative Officers

Administrative officers are appointed by, and serve at the pleasure of, the President. Most administrative contracts are for 12 months. Tenure rights reside in academic areas. Administrative officers appointed from within the University who have tenure rights within academic units maintain those rights during their appointments. If administrators, with such tenure, leave administration, they can return to their departments or divisions for reassignment. Promotion of administrative officers is at the discretion of the President, in consultation with the candidate's superiors.

POLICIES ON TENURE AND PROMOTION

Tenure and promotion is regulated by the Collective Bargaining Agreement.

PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT

Although no set of rules or professional code can either guarantee or take the place of a scholar's personal integrity, WOU believes that the "Statement on Professional Ethics," promulgated by the American Association of University Professors, may serve as a reminder of the variety of obligations assumed by all members of the academic profession.

Professional Standards of Conduct

Professional conduct is that conduct which seeks advantage for others, rather than one's self, and, in the case of faculty, conduct which is based upon the accepted norms of the academic community.

Relationships with Faculty

As a colleague, the professor has obligations that derive from common membership in the community of scholars. These include respecting and defending the free inquiry of associates, due respect for the opinions of others, the acknowledgment of academic debts, objectivity in the professional judgment of colleagues, and the acceptance of a fair share of responsibility for the governance of the institution.

Relationships with Students

As a teacher, the professor recognizes the special role s/he plays as intellectual guide and mentor and the need to represent that which is best in the academic world to each student. The professor is especially concerned that evaluation of students and their accomplishments reflect their true merit, that the confidential nature of the relationship between professor and student be respected, that the academic freedom of the students be protected, and that there will be no exploitation of students for private advantage.

Students with Disabilities

No qualified individual with a disability shall, on the basis of disability, be excluded from participation in, or be denied the benefits of the services, programs or activities, or otherwise be subjected to discrimination by any public entity. This includes programs related to academia, research, occupational training, housing, health insurance, counseling, financial aid, physical education, athletics, recreation, transportation, other extracurricular, or other post-secondary education activities.

In course examinations or other procedures for evaluating students' academic achievement, the faculty member shall provide such methods for evaluating the achievement of students which will best represent the student's achievement in the course and not be a measurement/evaluation of how the disability impacts the student in the course.

The faculty member shall take such steps as are necessary to ensure that no student with a disability is denied the benefits of, excluded from participation in, or otherwise subjected to discrimination under the education program or activity taught by the faculty member because of the absence of educational auxiliary aids for students with disabilities. Auxiliary aids may include but are not limited to taped texts, interpreters, note takers and material in an alternative format. As with all students, materials in an alternative format should be ready for students on the first day of class (i.e. syllabi). Faculty can provide materials in alternative format by working with the Office of Disability Services.

It is expected that faculty will cooperate with reasonable accommodation needs of each student. Faculty members who have questions or need additional information can contact the Office of Disability Services.

Course syllabi need to include a statement regarding auxiliary aids and academic accommodations. Faculty are encouraged to direct students to services available through the Office of Disability Services by including statements in the course syllabi. Syllabi statements can be found here.

Faculty can identify course goals and alignments to learning outcomes here: https://wou.edu/include_files/iframe_apps/facultysenate/curriculum/forms/course_goals.php

Specifically Prohibited Practices

There are certain ethical problems that seem to arise more often than others or have a greater potential for serious repercussions for those involved when they do occur. The practices described below are specifically prohibited. Faculty failing to avoid them will be subject to sanction or corrective discipline.

Reference the current Collective Bargaining Agreement

Conflicts of Interest

A conflict of interest occurs when a member of the faculty initiates or participates in an activity intended to produce personal advantage or gain to the detriment of the University, other faculty, or students. Examples of such activity would include outside employment which substantially interferes with the full and faithful performance of all institutional obligations or is competitive with any of the University's academic programs; the more than incidental use of university personnel, facilities, equipment, supplies, etc., for profit-making ventures (CBA); and required purchases by students of instructional materials (including textbooks) that result in pecuniary profit to the instructor. Exceptions to the above will be allowed only with the written permission of the dean of the administrative unit involved or of the Provost, should the circumstances seem in her/ his judgment to warrant such action.

Complimentary Textbooks

To aid in the selection of an appropriate textbook for instructional use, faculty may solicit evaluation textbooks from publishers. Publishers occasionally provide unsolicited textbooks. Faculty may also receive desk copies when a textbook has been previously chosen for instructional use. Faculty may use or retain materials defined above in a manner consistent with the purpose for which they were provided and faculty may dispose of such materials in accordance with WOU's surplus property procedures: pursuant to ORS 244.040.

WOU abides by the AAUP position against ever selling complimentary textbooks and denying the author royalties.

Sexual Harassment

Sexual harassment is a form of discriminatory harassment. Sexual harassment is defined as unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical behavior of a sexual nature when directed toward an individual because of that individual's perceived gender or sexual orientation, when:

- Submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of the individual's employment, grade, or used as the basis for any employment or academic decision;

-OR-

- Such conduct is unwelcome and has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work or academic performance or creates an intimidating, hostile or offensive work or academic environment.

Additional information is available at HR's Affirmative Action webpage.

Political Activity

As citizens, faculty members have every right to become involved in the political affairs of the nation, state, and community. The campus and its resources, however, being a state institution, cannot be used to support any specific candidate or cause without offering the same opportunity to anyone else who might wish to do so.

In practice, this means candidates may be brought to campus, petition drives can be held on campus, speakers supporting a candidate or cause may speak at the University, and that no one can be refused these courtesies because they are opposed by individuals or groups on campus.

The use of university equipment and supplies for partisan political purposes by university employees would not be acceptable, however, and the use of space for political meetings would be subject to prior approval by the Provost and the needs of university entities.

University employees may seek political office and/or actively aid others to do so, but such activity shall in no way interfere with the performance of their major duties. WOU Policy: GL-02-002

Outside Employment and Related Compensation

Faculty are authorized to engage in outside activities for as much as, but not to exceed, the equivalent of one work day per week. A faculty member who engages in outside activities which create a potential conflict of interest will provide written disclosure, even if the activity is unrelated to the faculty member's institutional responsibilities.

Outside activities related to institutional responsibilities and associated funding sources which the University approves as a class and which will not require prior review and approval are: service as an expert witness; private individual instruction and tutoring; a one-time lecture, seminar, performance, or exhibition; service on panels; or related consultant work other than work subject to (a), (b), or (c) below.

In circumstances other than those identified above, faculty members are obligated to disclose to their division chair the intent to engage in outside activities. In cases involving a commitment over more than one academic term, it will be the responsibility of the chair to clear the request with the dean. A request to engage in an activity related to institutional responsibilities involving any or all of the following conditions must be submitted and approved in advance on a case-by-case basis:

- a. acceptance of compensation, or ownership of equity in the case of a private entity;
- b. service in a line management position or participation in day-to-day operations of a private or public entity; and
- c. service in a key continuing role in the scientific and technical activity of a private or public entity.

Copyright Guidelines

While the Copyright Act does permit some unauthorized copying under the concept of "fair use," this exception is quite limited, and one must avoid the pitfall of assuming that any education-related use will qualify as "fair use." Faculty members producing course packets, Web sites or other reproductions for reading list materials or class handouts should pay careful attention to instructions on file in the Library regarding compliance with copyright laws.

Almost all computer programs are also protected under the copyright law. (The only exception might be public domain software or "shareware.") In this area, there is very little likelihood that the "fair use" exemption would apply. The terms of the license must be carefully examined to determine if the program can be loaded on more than one computer at a given site. It will infringe the software publisher's copyright to make unauthorized copies of computer programs. If in doubt, check with the director of University Computing Services as to the terms of the relevant license.

In addition to injunctive relief, a successful plaintiff in a copyright suit can collect attorney fees plus the greater of actual damages and lost profits (from lost) or "statutory" damages.

As in all other matters, it is the desire of the University to have its employees act in compliance with state and federal law. Faculty and staff who act to knowingly infringe copyrights risk losing the protection of being indemnified by the State Liability Fund and thus, might find themselves exposed to significant uninsured personal liability.

OFFICE FACILITIES

Assignment of Offices

Each faculty member is provided an office adequately furnished and equipped. Office space is assigned by division chairs in consultation with their academic deans. While faculty wishes are given serious consideration, such factors as efficient use of space (reflecting costs of heating, custodial services, etc.), concentration of disciplines and departments, the availability of research facilities, and the convenience of students may outweigh personal preference.

Telephone

All tenure/tenure-track faculty members are provided with an individual telephone, and the number is listed in all pertinent documents on the campus. Long distance calls are limited to university business only, and are charged to the home department; long distance personal calls are to be reimbursed.

Office Support Services

All academic areas are at least partially served by an Administrative Program Specialist (APS) or Administrative Program Assistant (APA) who supports the division chair. Additional relevant administrative projects for faculty will be undertaken on a first-come, first-served basis, as workload permits, and with the approval of the chair.

It should be noted that in special cases, such as office support services written into grants, the preparation of manuscripts and other documents for profit-making purposes, (whether realized or not) and clerical needs of professional organizations that may be temporarily or permanently located on campus, the cost should be paid by the agency or individual benefiting.

GENERAL ACADEMIC STANDARDS

The WOU catalog and online class schedule contain pertinent information for students regarding the University's academic policies and procedures. What follows is information that is needed specifically by faculty in implementing the academic program.

Maintenance of the University's general academic standards is a responsibility of all members of the faculty, whether as instructor or administrator. Especially critical in this regard are those standards that do not lend themselves to precise statement (e.g., grading). It should also be noted that in an increasingly litigious society, incomplete or confusing statements on standards are used by some to gain advantages not intended by the University. Therefore, all faculty members are expected to become familiar with those standards with which they will most likely be involved, whatever the official source may be.

Review of existing general academic standards and recommendation of new or modified standards is generally the responsibility of the Faculty Senate committees and the General Education Committee. Other committees and offices and the Faculty Senate itself may also propose changes or additions concerning those standards for which they have a special responsibility.

Proposed standards, or changes in standards, become official when published in such university documents as the catalog, Student Handbook, and this Faculty Handbook. Final approval is given for such publications by the President and/or the Provost after receiving recommendations from the bodies and individuals noted above.

Reference the current Collective Bargaining Agreement

Teaching

Commitment to outstanding teaching is a distinguishing characteristic of WOU. Since teaching is considered to be of preeminent importance, every faculty member is expected to strive for excellence in the classroom. This excellence involves not only an up-to-date command of one's subject and an effective teaching style but consistent and sophisticated class management.

Reference the current Collective Bargaining Agreement

Class Meetings

Faculty members are expected to meet their classes punctually and to conduct them at a level appropriate to a university course. If for some valid reason the instructor unexpectedly cannot meet a class, the division office should be contacted so students can be notified of the cancellation. Faculty are encouraged to send notice to their classes via the Moodle or WolfWeb class email rosters.

Children in the Classroom

Children may accompany a WOU student to class on an occasional basis with the express approval of the applicable faculty member, and subject to the following conditions:

1. The approving faculty member has determined that the presence of the child is not likely to create a disruption of classroom instruction or otherwise negatively impact other students.
2. The child must be directly supervised by the responsible student at all times.
3. If the faculty member determines at any time, in their sole discretion, that the child is causing disruption or should be removed for any reason, the responsible student will comply.

Class Size

Because of budgetary requirements it is expected that classes will have certain minimum enrollments or may be subject to cancelation and reassignment of the instructor or rescinding of a contract for NTT faculty.

In some instances where a class is critical to the student's progress, in a degree program, a lower enrollment may be allowed. The decision in such a case is to come from the dean of the college, in consultation with the division chair.

Final Week of Regular Class Each Term

It is understood that during the final week of class during each term (formerly known as "Dead Week") only routine class assignments or exams noted in the course syllabus are to be given. Faculty members may hold examinations during the last week of instruction if such examinations count for no greater percentage of the total course grade than any other scheduled examination or project.

Examinations

It is expected that examinations will be a significant part of the evaluation of students in all courses except those where successful completion of a significant project or program is a natural outcome. Final examinations each term will be held at the time specified in the class schedule. Permission to administer the final examination at another time may be granted by the division chair and the appropriate college dean following a request by the faculty member and upon demonstration of educationally justifiable reasons for doing so. Faculty members who do not hold final examinations shall use the times scheduled for such examinations for activities that are reasonably related to pedagogical purposes in the affected course.

Inasmuch as finals week is a week of instruction, classes in which there is no final exam shall meet during the time specified in the exam schedule.

Reference the current Collective Bargaining Agreement

Required and Recommended Texts and Manuals

Faculty should be concerned for the monetary demands placed on students for required textbooks and manuals. Especially unfair to students are expensive texts that are used only minimally or not at all. It would be better to place these on a recommended list rather than having them required.

Amount of Class Time or Work Time for a Unit of College Credit

The US Department of Education, the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities and the State of Oregon Higher Education Coordinating Commission all subscribe to the following conditions for issuing a unit of college credit.

Definitions of Terms

- "Class hour" or "contact hour" means approximately one hour of direct communication between a teacher and one or more students, minus time for rest or change of classes. Conventionally this has been a fifty-minute period.
- "Credit," when the full term is "postsecondary or college credit," means indication or certification by a school that a student has completed a unit of study, demonstrated achievement or proficiency, or manifested measured learning outside of school so as to have satisfied a portion of the requirements for a degree or for any other academic recognition offered by the school.
- "Credit hour" means one postsecondary credit resulting from one of the following intended to result from at least 2 hours of student work out of class (or in equivalent lab time) for each contact hour in class, totaling:
 - Approximately 30 hours of student work in a quarter;
 - Equivalent student work demonstrated by student performance on a nationally recognized examination or evaluation.

Grading

WOU indicates the academic performance of students by the use of letter grades and encourages faculty to apply specific and consistent criteria to the evaluation of student achievement. The University has adopted an A-F plus/minus grading system. The plus/minus distinction has been developed in order to better delineate student performance.

Incompletes

Incomplete grades should be issued only to students who are lacking a class requirement that can realistically be completed within a reasonable time. They should not be used as a way for a student to avoid an F grade. Incompletes will convert to the default grade assigned at the time the “I” grade was submitted after 12 months.

Reference: WOU Academic Requirements

Withdrawals

Course withdrawals require completing the proper Add/Drop form. By filing this form with the Registrar’s Office before the end of the sixth week of the term, a student may withdraw from any course without responsibility for a grade, and no entry will be made on the student’s permanent scholastic record.

Class Absence

The University does not have formal all-campus rule regarding absences from class. Traditionally, however, more than three absences during a term have been seen as cause for concern and instructors are encouraged to promote regular attendance. Expectations are that concerns related to the deleterious effects due to absence from class should be addressed with the affected student in a timely manner and to submit a report through the Wolf Connect System. If class attendance is to be used as a criterion for establishing a grade, that fact needs to be clearly stated in the course syllabus.

Students who do not attend the first two sessions of a class may be administratively dropped from the class by the Registrar’s Office upon request from the academic department. The student’s permission is not required when dropped for this reason. The academic department will notify the student via email before dropping them. Students are strongly advised to notify faculty of any situation that may prevent class attendance during the first week.

Pass/No Credit, Satisfactory/No Credit, and Auditing Courses

The student registers for the course, pays the appropriate tuition and requests the grade method option at the time of registration. Please note that neither the web, nor the class roster, indicate if a student is taking a class with an alternative grade option. At term's end, the instructor records the grade earned by choosing the appropriate grade from the pull-down menu; the acceptable grades are A through F, +/-, RP, X or I. You should grade all students on the standard A – F +/- scale; the database will default the appropriate grades to "P", "S", "NC" or "AU".

It is understood that any student who audits a course:

- a. will not be allowed to fulfill the requirements of a class while auditing and then register for the class at a later date and receive a grade based on the earlier work;

-And-

- b. will not be allowed to challenge a course subsequent to having audited all or any portion of that course.

Submission of Grades

End-of-course grades are submitted online via the Wolf Web system. The deadline for those reports is 10:00 a.m. on the Tuesday following final exam week during fall and spring terms, and 10:00 a.m. on the Monday following final exam week during winter term.

Delayed reports cause substantial extra cost to the University and delay students' receipt of grades and in turn the students' access to financial aid and assistance such as veteran's benefits, and employer benefits: The need for punctuality cannot be over emphasized.

Change of Grade

Occasionally, because of an error, or more often, in order to remove an Incomplete, it may be necessary to change a grade previously given. Grade changes are processed online. Faculty should revise a grade only when there is clear evidence that an error was made originally. It is unethical to revise a grade for one student based on criteria not available to the other students in the class.

Cheating, Plagiarism, Etc.

Cheating on examinations or presenting the work of another person as one's own (plagiarism) are both serious breaches of academic honesty. It is the responsibility of the faculty member to address issues of academic dishonesty in a prompt and fair manner. It is imperative to retain the original copy of any test, paper, project, etc. related to any instance of cheating, plagiarism or other failure of a student to do his or her own work.

Copies of the "Code of Student Responsibility" are available in handbook form from the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs and it can be found on the Office of Student Conduct webpage.

The faculty member is encouraged to report cases of student academic misconduct to the dean of students, even if the faculty member has arranged for resolving the conduct issue with the student.

STUDENT ADVISING

Since the basic objective of Western Oregon University is to assist students in reaching their full personal and professional potential, the University emphasizes the role of its faculty in the academic advising of students. The Student Success and Advising Center has the responsibility for the coordination of undergraduate advisement for undecided or pre-majors.

General Faculty Responsibility

Although there are other offices that provide specialized counseling to which the student may be directed for professional assistance, the faculty member has a particular role which may take three forms:

- a. Advising the student with regard to the student's work in classes taught by the faculty member;
- b. Assignment as an advisor for new students, or as an advisor in the student's major area, to assist the student in setting academic goals and to insure that university and program requirements are met and understood by the student; and;

- c. Recognizing when the student needs assistance with problems of a personal nature, or resulting from academic skill deficiencies, and directing the student to the appropriate office or person from whom such assistance is available. The Wolf Connection System can be used to electronically report a concern about a student to academic advising for contact by a counselor.

Assignment of Faculty

Certain faculty, because of their special experience and expertise, are assigned by their chairs to specific academic advisement duties. For example, faculty may advise new students, academic majors, graduate students, or certification-only students. Such assignments become then a part of the annual performance evaluation of those individuals (CBA). Other faculty, while not specifically assigned, may, by mutual agreement between an individual student and faculty member, also act as academic advisors. Lists of assigned academic advisors are available from the Student Success and Advising Center.

Assignment of Students

Undergraduate students will first be assisted by temporary advisors as they plan their first-term schedule during the registration sessions which are held for new students. During the fall term, they will be directed to permanent faculty advisors for assistance with future academic planning and scheduling. Students who, for any other reason, find themselves without an advisor should request an advisor assignment at the Student Success and Advising Center. Graduate and post-baccalaureate students request an advisor assignment at the Graduate Studies Office.

Student Grievances

Students who believe they have been treated unfairly or arbitrarily by a faculty or staff member may, if informal efforts to solve the difficulty have failed, ask the Vice President for Student Affairs to help bring about a resolution of their problem through more formal procedures.

Reference: Student Grievance Process

Faculty members should, of course, make every effort to settle the issue at the informal level. The appropriate dean, division chairs, and the department heads can help at this stage. At the same time, the threat of formal hearings should not cause an instructor to surrender what s/he believes to be legitimate principles.

Academic Petition Committee

Students are responsible for managing their own registration and are required to adhere to published policies and deadlines, but sometimes encounter extraordinary circumstances that prevent them from doing so. The Academic Petition Review Committee exists to review such cases. Academic policies can be found in the current Course Catalog, and the Academic Calendar with pertinent deadlines can be found on the Office of the Registrar's homepage. Students who have experienced extraordinary circumstances that have prevented them from adhering to policies and deadlines may submit an academic petition to request an exception. Examples of policies/deadlines that students may petition: registration deadlines, drop/withdrawal deadlines, graduation application deadlines, University (non-major/minor) graduation requirements, and registration overloads.

More information about the petition process and guidelines can be found on the Academic Petition Guidelines page.

CURRICULUM MANAGEMENT

The members of the University faculty, working through the University's faculty governance structure, are expected to assume the major responsibility for curriculum management. While the President exercises the final authority for curriculum, faculty recommendations are, with few exceptions, the determining factor in establishing the University's curriculum.

Reference: Curriculum Guidelines and Help

At the same time, faculty should be aware that a new degree program may well involve financial and other new commitments by the institution and thus will also be evaluated by the deans and provost prior to submission to the WOU Board of Trustees for approval. Further, new programs may also require review by the Provost's Council, the Higher Education Coordinating Commission and the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities.

New Program

Requests for new programs, while usually initiated by a specific department, may in some cases be initiated by another administrative unit or a faculty curriculum committee. Such requests may require both internal and possibly external proposal review. For information on the required documents see the Curriculum Guidelines available on the Faculty Senate webpage.

Reference: Curriculum Guidelines and Help

An evaluation and recommendation for any new program is expected from the department or program, curriculum committee, and the chair of the division that would offer the program (a dean or provost may substitute for a division chair if there is no obvious division). The curriculum committee of the Faculty Senate may add its recommendation as may the Faculty Senate, prior to approval.

Program Changes

From time to time it may become necessary or desirable to modify an existing program. As long as substantial changes are not involved – meaning changes that would impact costs, personnel, other programs, or the institutional mission – these proposed modifications are to be processed through the same channels as requests for a new program, but without the preparation of external documents. Final approval comes from the Office of the Provost.

For information on the required documents see the Curriculum Guidelines available on the Faculty Senate webpage.

Reference: Curriculum Guidelines and Help

Courses

Divisional and departmental course offerings should be in accord with both the general requirements of the University and the needs of program majors and the general student body. Division chairs in consultation with their respective dean make the final determination of the courses to be offered each term. Course numbers must remain inactive for 7 years since a course's last offering in order to phase that course number/name from the Banner record. A list of available course numbers can be requested from the Registrar.

For information on the required documents see the Curriculum Guidelines available on the Faculty Senate webpage.

Reference: Curriculum Guidelines and Help

General Education and Liberal Arts Core Curriculum Changes for Individuals

The most common problem that arises in meeting the University's General Education or Liberal Arts Core Curriculum requirements is determining the suitability of transfer courses as substitutes for required courses offered on campus. Challenges by students to decisions of the Registrar's Office are appealed to the appropriate division chair. A negative decision by a division may be appealed to the appropriate college dean. The "Course Substitution/Program Change/Waiver Form" is used to verify approval.

http://www.wou.edu/provost/registrar/forms/course_substitution_form.doc

Classes by Special Arrangement

Faculty members may offer special studies (tutorials in regularly established courses), and independent studies (tutorials in special fields or topics not covered by established courses). Details about such individualized studies courses can be found in the CBA. Temporary courses (scheduled course in special fields or topics not listed in the schedule of classes) are to be approved by the division chairs, the dean of the college and the Provost using the Request for Temporary Course Approval form which can be found on the Faculty Senate webpage.

Reference: Curriculum Guidelines and Help

Distinction Between Graduate/Undergraduate Credit

The University lists some of its courses as slash courses (400/500) and these courses may be taken for either undergraduate or graduate credit. Students may not take both courses of a 400/500 dual listing unless the subject matter is substantially different in the two courses. Students desiring to take both courses of a 400/500 dual listing should contact their academic advisor.

The 500 level courses may be taken for graduate credit by graduate students or by undergraduate students who are within 12 hours of graduation. The latter may have the course reserved for graduate credit. It is understood, however, that students taking a course for graduate credit will have greater demands placed upon them than those taking it for undergraduate credit. These demands should be spelled out clearly in the class syllabus and should be designed to provide the graduate student with a graduate level experience in both the content and methodology of the discipline represented by the course. The requirements of graduate programs may limit the number of 500 level courses, taken in the dual format, which can be applied to a graduate program. Students taking 500 level courses should consult with their advisor 600-level courses are graduate-only courses; they are not open to undergraduate students.

Seminars and Workshops

The criteria for distinguishing between seminars and workshops are largely that of contact hours between student and teacher. A workshop will require 20 contact hours for each hour of credit with little, if any, work expected of the student outside the workshop setting. A seminar, like the traditional class, requires for each hour of credit at least 10 contact hours between student and instructor, and 20 hours of work by the student outside the scheduled seminar hours. An exception to the latter may be the research seminar traditional to many disciplines in which the student spends substantially more time outside of class in individual research and writing and thus fewer than 10 hours per credit hour in class.

Whatever the combination of student work outside of class and the number of contact hours, no more than one credit hour is to be earned over a period of two and one-half consecutive days. Therefore, schedules that postulate quality student involvement for 10 or more hours a day in rigorous academic activity are considered to be unrealistic.

Writing Components of Course Work

The University is committed to developing the best possible writing skills in its students. This goal transcends the skills developed in the formal four hours of a “College Writing” course (to be completed by the end of the sophomore year at WOU (90 credits) and six hours of writing-intensive courses required of all students. Faculty members are expected to require written assignments, whenever appropriate; to give essay style examinations, when possible; and, to use these as vehicles for students to fully develop their writing skills.

Reference: Writing Intensive Designation

ACADEMIC SCHEDULING AND WORKLOAD

Professional duties are recognized to include teaching, scholarship, and service to the institution, community and the Academy, as well as the academic advisement of students. These duties shall be assigned by the appropriate administrative officers in accordance with the needs of the University and strengths of the faculty member.

Since any adequate definition of faculty workload should take into account the whole spectrum of a faculty member's professional and institutional services, no attempt is made to assign a number of working hours to any specific task or responsibility except teaching load and academic advisement.

Reference the current Collective Bargaining Agreement

Reserved Hours

Certain class hours, specifically Tuesdays 3:30 p.m. - 5 p.m., are reserved for non-class activities such as service to departmental/divisional, Faculty Senate, and Faculty Senate committee governance activities. The scheduling of classes, laboratories, and other academic activities are to be avoided during these times.

Office Hours

Reference the current Collective Bargaining Agreement

FACULTY COMPENSATION

Faculty compensation at WOU is affected largely by decisions made by the Oregon State Legislature and the WOU Board of Trustees. Specific agreements are arrived at between the University and the faculty's collective bargaining agent.

Reference the current Collective Bargaining Agreement

Salary Standards

Tenure track, tenured, and non-tenure track faculty (0.5 full time equivalency or greater) are covered by the Collective Bargaining Agreement between the Western Oregon University American Federation of Teachers, Local 2278, and Western Oregon University. The salary system, which may include provisions for salary changes, is administered in accordance with that agreement.

Reference the current Collective Bargaining Agreement

Methods of Pay

Paychecks are available from the Payroll Office on the last working day of each month between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. or may be deposited directly into a designated bank account for the convenience of the employee through the Automated Clearing House implemented by the Budget/Payroll Office. Requests for direct deposit must be received in the Budget/Payroll Office no later than the 10th of the month that the direct deposit is desired.

Faculty has the option once each year during an open enrollment period in the fall to sign up for a 12-month pay option plan. This plan enables nine-month faculty employees to spread a nine-month appointment gross salary over a 12-month period from October 1 thru September 30. Election to participate in the plan is irrevocable during the plan year once the employee has signed up. If an employee terminates, the amounts accumulated year to date will be paid out in the next payroll period. No interest is paid on the amount withheld. For additional information about the plan, contact the Office of Human Resources.

CHAPTER 3: ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICES AND SERVICES

Academic Facilities

Upon request, faculty may use meeting rooms and other physical facilities for professionally-related groups subject to availability and prevailing policies of the university governing use of facilities.

The facilities of the Digital Media Center, Print Shop, computer labs and the use of university equipment are available to the faculty, in connection with professional writing, research, or approved service projects subject to availability and to reimbursement at prevailing rates charged by the University.

Bookstore (WolfStore)

The Bookstore (WolfStore), located in the Werner University Center, provides both textbook services and related general merchandise to students and faculty. Orders for textbooks and other instructional materials are made each term as directed by instructional faculty.

For the most efficient operation of the Bookstore, the faculty is asked to adhere to several policies:

- a. Place orders as requested via email instructions;
- b. estimate class enrollments (and thus the number of texts ordered) as closely as possible;
- c. avoid over-ordering on the assumption the Bookstore will reduce the order anyway; and
- d. distinguish carefully between Required Texts and those that are "Recommended."

Business Services

Mail and Package Services

Mail and package service is provided to the campus by the Mailroom, new location TBD Fall 2020. Mail (including U.S. mail, and inter-campus mail) is delivered to centrally located mailboxes in each building in the morning. Outgoing mail is picked up at the same location at the same time.

WOU business letters and packages going US Postal Service will be metered in the mailroom and the cost charged to the appropriate index number. Please be sure to include an index number on all outgoing mail, under the return address. The Mailroom is not equipped to sell postage stamps or handle personal packages.

Packages (UPS, FedEx, etc.) are delivered to the various departments and offices daily by mailroom personnel. Outgoing WOU business packages can be shipped from the mailroom. Please include an index number on all outgoing packages. Package pick up for next day shipping is available by calling the mailroom at x88383; however, due to our strict schedule and limited staff “pick up on demand” is often unavailable. Urgent / same day packages should be brought to the mailroom.

Mail intended for individuals or offices on campus should carry sufficient identification (first and last name, and department is preferred) to ensure prompt delivery. Improper, or incomplete or illegible addressing could delay delivery of mail. Mail Services is unable to deliver mail to individual staff and faculty offices, so department/division names are preferred rather than office numbers.

Campus mail and outgoing mail should be separated. Used envelopes can be used for intercampus mail as a cost-saving measure and to help identify intercampus mail from first class mail. If you need a supply of used envelopes, call the mailroom.

Mail Services also keeps USPS, UPS and FedEx supplies (boxes, labels) on hand for campus use, and can facilitate large special orders for departments and individuals given enough advance notice.

Visit the Mail Services page for more detailed information on campus mail services.

Parking

Approximately 2,443 individual parking spaces are available on the 157-acre Western Oregon University campus for the convenience of faculty, staff, students and guests. Fifteen paved lots, strategically located, are always open. Metered spaces for guests and short-term parking are marked in each major lot as well as many handicap spots. Parking is by permit and is enforced year-round. If a guest is just visiting for the day (or even a couple of hours), they can pick up a guest pass from the department/ organization they are visiting. Guest passes are free of charge to campus visitors and can be used in any faculty, staff and commuter parking lot. Please refer here in this handbook for information about Public Safety, which oversees parking, and see the Parking Regulations webpage for detailed instructions on parking regulations.

Printing Services

To serve routine needs, academic divisions and other offices on campus maintain a variety of equipment including copiers and scanners. Printing services are available for larger than normal amounts of copying or high quality reproduction. Services include: offset printing; volume high-speed copying and duplication; color copying; online plate making; collating; binding in various forms; shredding; and large staplers. Orders should be placed through departmental and divisional office managers, with approval of the chair. The Print Shop will have a new location in Fall 2020 TBD. For additional information visit the Print Shop webpage and refer here for information about Strategic Communications and Marketing (MarCom) in this handbook.

Purchasing

Purchases paid from a university account must be authorized by purchase orders and approved electronically by department or division chairs or office heads and a business administrator. Purchasing policies can be found on the Business Services webpage. Normally, teaching faculty will not be making such purchases directly. Vendors who accept purchases made without proper authorization may be directed to look to the purchaser for payment. For more information contact the division chair or college dean.

Serving Food and Beverages

It is common for faculty to become involved in the purchasing of food and beverages for various university sanctioned functions involving students and other university personnel. Oftentimes, the instructor pays for these refreshments with personal funds expecting to be reimbursed after the fact. However, in accordance with the financial rules and regulations, prior approval must be obtained, if the funds are to be reimbursed.

For a meal, refreshment, and/or beverage expense to qualify as a reimbursable expense it must fall under one of the explicit areas listed on the form and meet the definitions and guidelines of WOU fiscal policies. Expense per person may not exceed the current in-state meal per diem rate. Caution: candy does not qualify as a reimbursable expense. See the links below.

Reference: Non-Travel Meals and Refreshments Pre-Approval Form

Reference: Personal Funds Reimbursement Form

Travel Regulations

The regulations below are only partial. For additional details, particularly in matters such as meals and lodging, contact the division chair or college dean. Information is also available on the Business Services Travel page.

Professional Travel

WOU recognizes that members of its faculty are interested in attending meetings of learned or professional societies as a means of keeping abreast of their fields of teaching and scholarship. The University encourages this professional development and, when possible, provides financial support of the Faculty Professional Development fund.

Reference the current Collective Bargaining Agreement

In-State Travel

Travel between locations in Oregon on university business is authorized by the administrator for whose office or department the travel is being done. Meals may be authorized when the activity or program requires the presence of the faculty member at the meal, or when the activity or program requires an overnight stay. In the case of travel by faculty on WOU business, authorization is to be sought from the college dean.

Out-of-State Travel

All travel outside the state of Oregon, and to be paid for in part, or in whole, by other than personal funds, is considered out-of-state travel.

Reimbursement for Travel Expense

To receive reimbursement for mileage or other authorized expenditure for travel, it is necessary to complete a "Travel Reimbursement Request Form." This is submitted following the travel. In case funds are needed in advance of the travel, the employee should submit a Pre-Travel Authorization Form a minimum of one week in advance. A summary of the travel reimbursement rates can be found on the Business Services Travel page.

Services

The mission of the Campus Public Safety Department of Western Oregon University is to engender a sense of safety and security within the university community by providing an environment in which students, faculty, staff and visitors can openly learn, teach, study, work, and live. The environment is accomplished by a professionally trained corps of officers and staff that honor the individual dignity, diversity, and civil liberties of all people.

Public Safety is staffed 24 hours a day, seven days a week to respond to campus incidents, building alarms, crimes, injuries or illnesses, traffic and parking accidents, safety hazards, coordination with local law enforcement, crowd control, building inspections, parking enforcement and related activity. A variety of other services are provided by the department. These include:

Campus Safety Tips

- Always lock your car, bicycle, room, or residence and keep valuables out of sight.
- Do not prop doors open so that someone who does not have a key can gain access to the building. All too often the prop is not removed and the security of the building is violated. The last staff member to leave an office or work area has the responsibility to see that the doors are closed and locked, windows are closed and latched, and that unnecessary lights and electrical devices are off.

- At night, walk or travel in pairs or call Public Safety for an escort. Stay in well-lit areas with other foot traffic.
- Always follow campus fire rules. Know where fire extinguishers, fire alarms, exits, and pull stations are located in your residence hall, building, or work place.
- Report suspicious persons, groups, or activities even when you are unsure.
- Report to threats, concerns, or suspicious phone contacts to Campus Public Safety.

WOU Alert: Campus Emergency Notification System

The WOUAlert emergency notification system enables the University to contact the WOU community in the event of an emergency by sending messages via your preferred electronic devices:

- Cell
- Email
- Phone
- Text Messages

WOUAlert is not used to send non-emergency, routine or spam messages.

Situations for which WOUAlert may be used include (but are not limited to):

- Campus closings due to emergency, non weather related, situations
- Building emergencies if related to an emergency situation
- Potential life-threatening situations on campus
- Activation of emergency response teams

All WOU students, faculty and staff have their WOU email account address automatically downloaded into the WOUAlert System. To add contact numbers (cell, office, home, parents), additional email addresses, or text contact information, log into the WOU Portal as normal and click on the WOUAlert icon across the top. You will be taken to your account information and then can make the additions and/or changes.

The cards are used for identification by various offices on campus including the Library, Business Services and Payroll. All members of the WOU community are given a V# for identification purposes and your specific number will be printed on this card. An updated annual sticker is available at the HR office.

Insurance Programs

Health Insurance

Faculty hired in excess of 90 days at an FTE of .50 or greater have available to them several health insurance options within the Public Employees Benefit Board benefits program. Information about the plans as well as the current contribution is available from the Office of Human Resources.

Other Insurance

Also available through the University at moderate rates are several life insurance and income protection programs. Again, for more information contact Human Resources.

Liability Insurance

Faculty are covered by the University against any liability arising from the carrying out of their assigned duties. This protection includes any necessary legal representation and costs.

Leaves of Absence

Leaves of absence are those leaves taken by faculty for personal or professional reasons either with the formal permission of the University or with permission implied, although in some cases the University may also benefit by the leave. These leaves should not be confused with the sabbatical.

Leave with Pay

In some specific instances when the University would be especially benefited by the activities of a member of the faculty while absent on leave, it may continue to pay part or all of his or her salary. Rights based on continuous service may or may not accrue during the period of absence depending on the agreement made between the faculty member and the University. Such arrangements can be made only with the approval of the President and should in no way be considered a faculty right.

Reference the current Collective Bargaining Agreement

Leave Without Pay

Leave without pay is available to faculty when, for personal or professional reasons, a faculty member may find it advantageous to be relieved of teaching and/or administrative responsibilities for a specified period of time. Such leaves are to be arranged for in advance and no credit based on length of service is accrued during the period of the leave unless it is for approved professional leave. Any leave without pay granted during the academic year is to be reported by the supervisor to the budget director by the 15th of the month affected.

Reference the current Collective Bargaining Agreement (Article 20, Section 5: Professional Leave)

Faculty Exchanges

The exchange of teaching positions by WOU faculty with faculty from other institutions, with each college continuing to pick up the salary and other benefits of its own faculty member, is a type of leave. Such leaves are encouraged as a means of faculty renewal or development and no service penalty accrues because of absence from the campus.

Sick Leave

Full-time faculty will be credited with eight hours (1 day) of sick leave for each full month of service or two hours for each full week of service less than one month. Part-time faculty employed .50 FTE or more will be credited a prorated amount. Sick leave is to be used at the same rate accrued. No credit is allowed, however, during periods of sabbatical leave or other leaves of absence. There is no limit on the amount of sick leave that can be accrued.

Faculty members with less than 520 hours of sick leave may "borrow" the difference between earned unused sick leave and 520 hours for qualified sick leave use. This provision is available once every seven years. OAR 580-021-0040

Sick leave records depend on a report form to be filled out at the end of each term by eligible faculty members. For each sick leave day eight hours must be reported or pro-rated if less than 1.00 FTE. The forms are distributed regularly to the faculty in time to make the report. If sick leave reports are not submitted in a timely manner, all accrued sick leave for the reporting period will be recorded as taken.

Faculty members may apply for enrollment for membership in the WOU donated leave bank which allows a member to donate eight (8) hours of sick leave annually from their accrual account to the leave bank within the terms and conditions of the current CBA.

Reference the current Collective Bargaining Agreement

Leave Laws

The University is covered by several different types of leave laws for eligible employees: Oregon Family Medical Leave and the Federal Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993, which are both administered by the University. For further information contact the Office of Human Resources.

Information is available at the Human Resources Office.

Office of Institutional Research

As a repository of information, the primary role of institutional research is to collect, summarize, analyze and report institutional data on students and faculty, educational programs, and administrative and support services. These activities provide accurate and timely information to support the planning and decision-making activities of the President, Vice Presidents, Provost and Deans of WOU. Institutional Research also responds to a variety of private, state and federal reporting demands by gathering and reporting official information to the University community, and when appropriate to external agencies and the Higher Education Coordinating Commission.

<https://www.wou.edu/institutionalresearch/>

Sponsored Projects Office

The primary role of Sponsored Projects is to provide WOU administrators, faculty and staff with technical assistance and professional development to expand current institutional and faculty research, contract and grant activities. This includes identifying new funding sources; conducting grant and foundation searches; assisting faculty, staff and administrators in conceptualizing, developing and submitting proposals to a variety of funders; budget planning and management; providing technical assistance and/or direct assistance in research and evaluation design; and managing the multitude of local, state and federal legal and fiscal requirements for post-award grants administration. All extramural grants and contracts are to be coordinated through the Sponsored Projects' office. Institutional procedures for applying for a grant are located on the Sponsored Projects' website. <http://triwou.org/expertise/sro>

Institutional Research Board (IRB)

The purpose of IRB oversight of research is to assure the protection of both the research participants and the researcher. The research community has a responsibility to ensure that the treatment of human participants in research meets the highest ethical standard. If the proposed research activity involves human participants and may contribute (e.g., through publication, presentation, or dissemination outside the WOU community) to "generalizable knowledge", then the activity will require review and approval by the WOU Institutional Review Board (IRB) before any recruitment or research involving human participants may begin. IRB review and approval is required for all research projects involving human participants, regardless of the source of funding, for the project or the level of risk posed to participants. Additionally, if an institution, such as WOU, receives federal funding for research, it must commit itself in writing to protect those subjects. Failure to do so could lead to the institution losing its federal funding. The IRB procedures and application are located at <http://www.wou.edu/irb>.

Facilities Services

Key and Lock Services

Each faculty member receives minimally a key to his/her office and, at the discretion of the authorizing official, a key or door fob to the building in which the office is located. Requests for keys are made through the building authorizing official. Keys are checked out at no charge through the Campus Key and Lock Services Shop located at the Physical Plant.

Keys are not to be duplicated and are to be returned to the Campus Key and Lock Shop when they are no longer needed due to an office move or an employee leaving employment with WOU. Keys are numbered and tracked to each individual and an annual inventory of all keys is made each spring. In case a key or keys are lost, Campus Public Safety should be notified immediately. Any key-holder who loses a key will be charged a key loss penalty in relation to the key type.

Occupational/ Environmental Safety

It is particularly important that all University faculty, staff and students comply with the following rules that are part of the State of Oregon fire codes, OR-OSHA and DEQ regulations:

1. WOU is a Tobacco Free Campus. WOU Policy: PRE-HR/VPSA-001
2. All employees are required to receive OSHA's "Hazard Communication Training" for knowledge of chemicals in their work environment and their hazards.
3. Any employee needing the use of a respirator must complete the required OSHA Respirator Protection Program and fit testing.
4. All employees whose job may place them in contact with human body fluids are required to complete OSHA's Blood Borne Pathogens training.
5. No employee shall dispose or release any hazardous chemicals through the sewer system, storm drains and/or air. Contact Occupational / Environmental Safety for proper disposal.
6. All department chemicals must be labeled and have the appropriate Material Safety Data Sheet (MSDS) logged in their departments MSDS book. Send a copy of the MSDS to Campus Public Safety for their recordkeeping and which allows accessibility 24/7 in the event of an emergency.
7. All departments who purchase chemicals are encouraged to purchase non-hazardous chemicals whenever possible.
8. All chemicals are to be stored and disposed of as required of OSHA and DEQ regulations.

Surplus Equipment, Furnishings, and Supplies

Both University policy and state law provide that the sale or disposal of any University property must be processed according to the procedures developed by the state for such purposes. Authorization for disposal either by sale or by gift, rests with the Director of Business Services. Any person who makes an unauthorized disposal is committing an unlawful act and may be subject to prosecution and disciplinary action. For additional information, contact the Stores Office at the Physical Plant.

University Advancement

Gifts and Bequests

The University from time to time, particularly through the WOU Foundation, receives gifts and bequests. As a protection to the donor, the faculty or staff member receiving the gift, and the University, it is WOU's policy that all such funds, or other items of value, are to be handled through the WOU Foundation. The foundation, when designated, will act as the trustee of those funds designated for specific purposes and disburse them as specified by the donor.

No funds belonging to any element of the University are to be kept in non-university bank accounts or in cash, and no employee of the University is to solicit or accept funds intended to be handled in this manner. It should be noted that the foundation, not the University, has 501(C)(3) tax exempt status, and that problems could arise for donors who give directly to an unauthorized fund and then attempt to use those gifts as income tax deductions.

Solicitation of gifts and bequests are to be coordinated through the Vice President for University Advancement so that potential donors to the University will not be inundated by conflicting and competing requests.

The above requirements are not intended to discourage faculty who may have, or believe they may have, an opportunity to secure financial aid for some aspect of the University or its program. Rather, it is in response to the realities and complexities of federal and state tax laws, directives, and policies; the fiduciary responsibilities of those controlling assets that do not belong to them; and the need for the most effective and efficient approaches to those who are potential donors. The foundation office is most willing to work with faculty to assure that all interests are cared for properly.

Strategic Communications and Marketing (MarCom)

The Office of Strategic Communications and Marketing (MarCom) has responsibility for approving all University publications intended for external audiences. Departments may develop their own publications, but will need approval from this office prior to printing and distribution. This includes newsletters, brochures, posters, and flyers.

This office also distributes news, cultivates opportunities for press coverage, arranges interviews and photography, and serves as the University's liaison for the local, regional, and national media. The office is the central clearinghouse for all news bulletins and official statements about the University. All official releases of news and information are to be channeled through this office.

Public Information Officer

The on-duty Public Information Officer will serve as the official university spokesperson in responding to media inquiries unless another designee is authorized. In the case of a crisis situation, the official communications hierarchy is outlined in communications annex of the Campus Emergency Operations Plan.

MarCom issues all news releases on behalf of the university and maintains the official university experts list. Marcom is the sole department to publicize WOU events that are open to the public. Marcom will work with associated organizations on publicity materials in all formats. The only exception are releases and outreach by the Athletics Department regarding NCAA student-athletes or athletic programs and events.

WOU programs, departments or individual employees that receive a media inquiry about a topic related to their position must coordinate their responses with MarCom. If they do not wish to respond, MarCom will field the inquiry.

Only MarCom designees, preauthorized personnel and members of the experts list will represent the university in an official capacity. When talking to the media, faculty and staff members must make it clear whether they are representing the university or sharing their own views.

WOU Policy: GL-01-010

Faculty Experts

MarCom receives requests from reporters seeking information for stories and experts to interview. MarCom may call on you to be a source for a reporter. The office maintains a list of faculty by area of expertise. Participation is optional. If the media contacts you directly, please call this office before responding; if appropriate, provide background, and look for clips when stories appear.

University Computing Solutions

The mission of this department is to support the strategic mission of Western Oregon University. UCS maintains a commitment to service with a focus on supporting the effective integration of technology into the academic and administrative life of the institution while keeping campus user technology current and easy to use.

Computing Solutions

University Computing Solutions (UCS) is responsible for a variety of areas:

- Computer labs and classrooms– Computer labs, classrooms, and offices are located throughout campus. The computer classrooms are equipped with instructor stations, overhead projection units and other up-to-date instructional technologies. These classrooms are scheduled through the computer lab manager. Software applications for classes are made available throughout campus. UCS works with campus to set goals to add smart classrooms, which entails planning room layouts and equipment needed for each room. Classroom Services schedules and delivers classroom equipment such as projectors, DVD players, and other audio visual equipment to classrooms for instructional use.

- Campus network services– UCS promotes the Acceptable Use Policy for all network users and monitors fraudulent activity. Residential Computing provides services and support for all residence hall networking, assisting students with computer issues.
- BANNER Systems (SIS/FIS/HRIS)– The BANNER Systems process student data, course scheduling, financial data and Human Resources data. It is from this system that most of the data is captured for reporting on various functional units across campus.
- Purchasing and maintenance of campus computing hardware and software– Common software is made available to faculty, students, and staff via the network. Software support for most applications used in classes and offices is available. Computers, related equipment, and software must be ordered through UCS to ensure university-wide compatibility, compliance, effectiveness and efficiency.
- Programming Support– Programmers are available to work with departments across campus to provide programs and processes for integrating IT applications, processes and hardware that will increase efficiency and effectiveness.
- Service Request Desk– UCS provides 24/7/365 support via the Service Request Desk. The SRD, which can be reached at (503) 838-8925, coordinates with UCS technicians who assist in problem resolution with both hardware and software.
- Network Services and Fees– Faculty members will submit a request for wired, wireless, and bundle services to their respective dean.

Telecommunications

Telecommunications provides telephone services and network data connections to the WOU campus. They are located in the ITC Building, Room 009 and are open Monday through Friday, 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. They install and maintain the hardware for the wireless system on campus. They can be reached at (503) 838-8010 or telecome@wou.edu

Telecommunications maintains a database for tracking cable information for phone moves and changes. They are responsible for adding new telephone lines and network connections, moving lines (both phone and network) and disconnecting services – including any repairs that arise. Also provided are long distance services, voicemail services and assistance, telephone training, video conferencing, speakerphones, and an online directory service (in addition to an annual printed directory).

Telecommunications monitors these systems and is responsible for billing for phone, network, wireless and long distance services.

Digital Production Services

Digital Production Services provides a variety of video services. The Production Studio is located in ITC Room 005. VPS provides video conferencing, satellite down linking, duplication services (VHS, DVD and international format conversion), and captioning, video production and WIMPEG services. Captioning can be provided for campus clients providing advice to help coordinate with third parties. VPS tapes many campus lectures and events (including some athletic activities). WIMGPEG is a partnership with WOU and the cities of Monmouth and Independence and assists in providing technical operation and management of the community channel access.

Werner University Center

The Werner University Center serves as a community center for the faculty, staff, students, alumni, and guests of the University. Services are available to faculty such as meeting rooms, catering, facility scheduling, stamps, ATM bank machines, and a variety of student affairs offices. Food service areas feature specialty items such as espresso and deli sandwiches. Many major departmental events are held within the Werner University Center including the Faculty Senate meetings.

SCHEDULING OF FACILITIES

All non-class activities must be scheduled through the facilities coordinator who then contacts the responsible person. No commitments for space and services are to be made to anyone until approval has been received from the coordinator. See the facility website at:

<http://www.wou.edu/student-engagement/conference-services/policies-and-information/>

Emergency Closures of the University

Announcement of cancelation of classes throughout the University because of an emergency involving a hazard to the health or safety of students, faculty, and staff will be made over local area radio and television stations; posted on the WOU website; and, through the WOU Alert system. The decision to close will be made by the ranking administrative officer available to the campus after consultation with the appropriate public safety, facilities services, and faculty members.

It should be noted that the most likely cause of closure is hazardous weather conditions that make any travel dangerous. The University may close during the course of the day, if conditions warrant, allowing students, faculty, and staff to return home safely. Should the University close, it will not reopen until the following day. If the campus remains open but faculty members are unable to hold classes due to their inability to travel to Monmouth, they are to notify their division chair.

Campus Inclement Weather Notice – Human Resources

If the main campus in Monmouth is closed, the WOU:Salem campus will also be closed. If the Monmouth campus remains open, faculty teaching in Salem will need to make individual decisions on whether to cancel class due to inclement weather conditions.

Faculty with nine-month appointments will not be expected to make up time lost by closure unless the University extends the academic term to compensate.

Equal Employment Opportunity and Affirmative Action Policy and Plan

WOU acknowledges its legal and ethical responsibility to insure equal employment without regard to perceived race, creed, color, ethnicity, national origin, sexual orientation, gender identity, age, disability, marital status, religious affiliation, or inclusion in any group or class against which discrimination is prohibited by state or federal law. Information about the University's commitment to affirmative action and equal employment opportunity can be found at the Human Resources website.

Adherence to University Regulations

The responsibility of faculty to adhere to university regulations is self-evident. An organization can operate effectively and consistently only if it has policies and rules to guide it and its members. This Faculty Handbook is an attempt to summarize those regulations pertaining directly to the faculty and may not be specifically covered in the legal documents listed below. Each faculty member is responsible for knowing the regulations spoken of in the handbook and for making every reasonable effort to adhere to them.
